Subject: Residential Zone Land Tax

We wish to draw attention to the fact that my property has been included in the RZLT Supplemental Map.

Our Property highlighted on this map is totally residential and has never been offered as a development property or has planning been sought for any development purpose. It is solely for my family's use as our primary residence and has been in my family for nearly 100 years. We are both PAYE workers and will not be in a position to pay any further taxation. If it is deemed taxable then we will be forced to sell the family home and relocate as we do not have the means to pay any further taxes.

The property was not included on the original RZLT Map, and has never been under offer by any developer as it is so clearly a family residence.

We would appreciate it if my property could be removed from the Supplemental Map and therefore not be subject to the RZLT.

Regards,
